A Few Reasons Why You Should Buy in Clear Lake City

CLIMATE unsurpassed, winter or summer; perennial sunshine; no wind, no fog, no snow or ice; altitude about 1500 feet.

CLEAR LAKE CITY is surrounded by Mineral Springs and Summer resorts. Thousands of people who could go anywhere, choose this locality every year in which to spend the summer. It is delightful, summer or winter.

THE SPORTSMAN'S PARADISE; the best hunting and fishing in California. Quail, dove, pigeons and deer are found in great abundance, while the mountain streams are stocked with trout and the Lake is full of fish.

THE SOIL is fertile and will raise anything—flowers, fruits, vegetables and grain. A man can raise vegetables and fruit enough on two or three lots at Clear Lake City to support a family, on account of the fact that the climate is so equable that he can raise at least two or three crops a year. The townsite is mostly level, partly rolling, and none of it is steep or rocky. It is on the line of Two Projected Electric Railroads.

After the electric roads are completed these lots will be worth $100 and upwards.

THE BEST REASON of all is that $10 gets you a deed and certificate of title to a lot in Clear Lake City, free and clear of all incumbrances. It is all you pay—no future payments.

The Time to Buy Land is When It Is Cheap.

REMINISCENCES OF OUR PIONEER DAYS

Gleanings From the Records Left By Men Who Laid the Founda- tion of Our County.

ECHOES OF CAMPAIGN OF 1860

Lack of Mail Facilities From the Coast Side—Cheap Printing for the County-School Report.

[In this issue is continued the history of the latter portion of the year 1860.]

That even at this early date San Mateo County was making remarkable progress in its material development, is evidenced by excerpts from the books of the County Assessor. Not only is there shown an increase in the value of real estate, but in all other classes of taxable property.
As compared with the assessment rolls of 1859, the valuations for 1860 were as follows:

	1859	1860
Value of land	$15,666	$15,666
Value improvements	240,945	283,815
Value personal prop.	630,906	634,211
Increase value of land		$ 96,384
Increase value improvements		42,869
Increase value personal property		29,315
Total increase		$165,568

As an evidence of the lack of mail facilities in this county in 1860, it might be of interest to note that in the issue of the Gazette of August, 1860, there is presented a number of paragraphs of news from the Purissima district, preceded with an editorial comment of the necessary delay in receiving the matter, which came with far less frequency than the news from the East, which at that time also came only through the mails. While news from the East came oftener than once each week, the mail from the coast side of our county only reached this city about once each month. In the following issue of the paper it was announced that a postoffice was about to be established at Spanishtown, the expense to be met by individual contribution.

During the latter months of the year 1860, politics seems to have been the absorbing item of public interest in this county as well as in other portions of the state and nation.
In the issue of September 1st, the editor of the Gazette placed the name of Douglas and Johnson at the head of his columns and announced his support of the wing of the Democratic Party which had placed the men in nomination. During the campaign which followed the paper was earnest in the support of these candidates, but as will be seen later he declined to act the part of the "sore head" when it was found that defeat came to his party, and proved a decidedly "good loser" giving heartly support to the policies and act-of President Lincoln. On the same day that the paper announced its fealty to the Democratic Party arrangements were being made for the organization of a local Republican Club, and in the evening a meeting was held at the Courthouse to perfect the organization. At this meeting the club was organized and officers elected as follows: J. B.
Morton, president; R. Murphy, E.
Beals, C. Baird and R. Smith, vice-presidents; William G. Langsdock, recording secretary; George Erskine, corresponding secretary. Strong addresses dealing with the issues of the campaign were made by Hon.
T. G. Phelps, Hon. C. N. Fox and Rufus Murphy.

Although the section at this time was entirely without the advantages of railroad facilities, there was convenient daily connection with San Francisco and at even less cost than at present. Daily lines of stages were operated between this city and San Francisco at a fare of 50 cents each way for the trip, and the time table was so arranged that the round trip could be made in one day, allowing a stay of nearly three hours in the metropolis.

The convention of the Democratic Party, for the nomination of county officers was held October 1, 1860, with H. S. Loveland as president, John Ames as secretary, and E. Ryan as sergeant-at-arms. The convention was in a measure a star chamber affair, the meeting being held behind closed doors, and all persons being excluded, with the exception of the few representatives of the press. The nominees of the convention were as follows: For county judge, J. D. Denniston, coroner, Dr.
S. S. Stambaugh. In accepting the nomination for county judge, Mr.
Denniston foreshadowed what is now known as the recall in politics, stating that should he fail to give official satisfaction he would resign when requested to do so by the citizens of the county. On the 13th of the same month the Republican county convention was held in this city, with John Reed president, G.
Eskine secretary, and Daniel Ross, sergeant at arms. Curtis Baird was nominated for member of the Assembly, but the nominations for other offices were left vacant. The election was held November 6th, and resulted in some surprises. While locally the Democrats were generally successful, the majorities received were much smaller than had been anticipated. While J. G. Denniston was elected Assemblyman, his majority over Curtis Baird was but 94. The total vote of the county was 1114, divided among the several positions as follows: Spanishtown, 265, Redwood City 182, Searsville, 141, Sand Hill's, 125, Woodside, 120, San Mateo, 101, Lapham's Mill 68, Pur-issima, 66, Finch's, 47. Of the total vote, Lincoln received 389, Douglas, 534, Breckenridge, 180 Bell 41. In an editorial comment on the result two weeks later, appears the following:

"The news of the large vote" for the Republican candidate was nowhere received with more astonishment than in California, notwithstanding the vote of the State had somewhat prepared the people for such a result. If the prophecies of the disunion-shriekers of the consequences of Lincoln's election are but as ill-founded as their calculations upon the result of the Presidential election, the nation will have cause to rejoice."

Apparently printers and publishers were not inclined to be exorbitant in their demands for compensation for public work at this time. At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors, held November 5th, 1860, the contract for doing the county printing was awarded to the Courier, whose bid for the work was one cent per square of 24 lines for the first insertion, and one-half of this rate for each subsequent insertion.

According to the school census for the year 1860, there was a total of 829 children under the age of 21 years in the county, and of these 624 were between the ages of 4 and 18 years. The total number reported as attending school was given as 102 boys and 89 girls. For the accommodation of these there were eight schools in the county, the cost of conducting these for the year being $292.53, and the total value of the school property was $3130.53.
Of the teachers employed, four were males and three females.

As an aftermath of the county election, Silas H. Bowman filed in the County Court a contest against the election of Joseph P. Ames to the Super-visorship of the second district, alleging fraud and illegal voting in the Spanishtown precinct. The contest was heard at a special session of the Court December 10th. At the hearing some evidence was introduced tending to show irregular proceedings at and returns from Spanishtown, but the Court held that these were not such irregularities as to invalidate the returns. The contestant then offered to introduce evidence to show that of the 265 votes cast in that precinct, 196 were illegal and that the defendant and others had deposited votes in the name of parties other than the voters, hoping thus to throw out the vote of the entire precinct. The Court, however, ruled that only such votes as could be shown to be illegal could be thrown out. No attempt was made by the contestant to show which were the illegal votes and the case was dismissed by the Court.

Sullivan Not Guilty.

P. J. Sullivan who on February 10th last was arrested and accused of attempting to burn the store of Debenedetti Bros at San Bruno was acquitted of the charge by a jury in the Superior Court Monday.

The evidence produced against Sullivan was of a flimsy character.
He was also the owner of a store at San Bruno and it was assumed that business jealousy inspired the attempt at arson. After the fire sacks saturated with coal oil, and bearing the initials of the accused were found at the Debenedetti store and a heel track was discovered which corresponded with the shoes worn by Sullivan. The trial occupied the whole day. Sullivan was defended by Attorneys Jas. T. O'Keefe and John J.
Greeley. The jury was out less than twenty minutes when a verdict was agreed upon. It was noticed that no ill feeling existed between Sullivan and the Debenedettis as George Debenedetti was one of the first to congratulate him on his acquittal.

Engagement Congratulations.

of the week was a luncheon and china shower tendered Miss Laura Signal Corps for Yosemite.

Company E, signal corps, United States army, in command of Lieutenant Paul W. Beck, passed through town yesterday morning from the Presidio on its march to Yosemite Valley. The troops go mounted. Accompanying them is Captain Fred W. Stopford of the commissary corps, who goes to test out a new portable cooking arrangement of his own invention. This new idea embodies a broiling, baking and frying outfit, so arranged in a big wagon that at any time food can be served when it is necessary for the troopers to have rations.

Lieutenant Chas. E. Freeman, medical corps, with two men from the hospital corps and 70 men of the signal corps, comprise the party. It will take 15 days to make the trip.
From San Jose to Raymond experimental line wires will be laid at about the rate of 20 miles a day. Following experiments at the end of each day the wires will be taken up.
Lieutenant Beck has been ordered by the War Department to try out a number of distinct problems relative to the arrangement and equipment of a field company. Another problem, and one of the most interesting, will be the solving of a system of "forest fire alarms."

Thomas J. Ring Dead.

Should Make Haste Slowly.

It is to be hoped that the near approach of the Summer season will not influence Congress to make undue haste in preparation for the close of this special session. For this occasion at least, individual comfort of the National law maker should be subordinated to the general good of the country. The revision of the tariff should be completed with extreme care, that it may be as nearly as possible satisfactory to the general public and the danger of another business disturbance avoided for a considerable number of years.

That the task set is a serious and difficult one, must be admitted by every student of the conditions of our vast country. With interests widely diversified, with the claims of the manufacturer and consumer both demanding consideration, it seems to be scarcely possible that a schedule meeting all requirements can be secured. Present indications, however, point to the hope that when completed the measure will prove generally satisfactory and pave the way for a confident resumption of the extensive business interests of the country and the consequent return of the era of prosperity, both for the capitalist and laborer.

That it is the desire of the Republican majority in Congress to carry out the pledges made to the people that the revision of the tariff should be "downward," in its true sense, there is at present every reason to feel satisfied. At the same time it must be carefully borne in mind that under existing conditions something more than a simple tax for the fostering of manufacturing and producing enterprises is required. The National Treasury is facing the problem of a large deficit, made necessary in order that our nation should keep pace with the world's progress. From every section of this vast domain comes demands for internal improvements. That we may be spared the necessity of constant fear of aggression from our neighbors, it is equally important that our army and navy should at least be kept fully up to its present standard of efficiency. Provision must be made in some manner for meeting these demands upon the exchequer of the Nation. At this time it seems apparent that we must have not only a tariff for protection but with a view to revenue also.

Ultimately all sources of Governmental income must come from the "common people"—the great mass of consumers. To a large extent it will be found that the most generally satisfactory and equitable means of providing this is through the medium of a tariff. Experience has frequently shown that the securing of needed revenue through the medium of general internal revenue taxation has resulted in more of a burden on the consuming classes than upon the possessors of large wealth.

In an address before the Legislature of Indiana, a short time since, Mr. Fairbanks remarked: "The statutory law should be scrupulously measured by the reasonable public need." A glance into almost any legislative hopper would indicate a tremendous overproduction.

It is to be hoped the supervisors may be able to see their way clear to appropriate sufficient funds to provide the sheriff's office with an automobile. It will in the end be a saving to the county to buy one as large sums will be saved in carriage hire and mileage fees.

Happenings at Woodside.
Shine graduated from Hastings' Law College last Wednesday with distinguished honors. He is a graduate of Sequoia Union High School and of St. Mary's College. He has been a professor at the latter institution for the past three years while pursuing his law studies. Mr. Shine will practice his profession at Oakland having formed a copartnership with Attorney Stetson, partner of the late lamented Mr. McElroy, for many years city attorney of Oakland. Mr. Shine is a Woodside boy and the people are proud of him.

Kelly Brothers are shipping large quantities of strawberries from their place at Portola. They are bringing big prices in the San Francisco market and hence the 50¢ smile on the genial countenance of Gene.

J. A. Fogler is making vast improvements on his place here. He is expending large sums of money to beautify the grounds. The Fogler home is without doubt the finest and most attractive of any in the state.

Several sales of Woodside property are reported this week.

O. E. Daves, of Portola, is doing a big business. He doesn't fear the great draught that is threatened on July first when all the saloons are to close.

Charles Kreiss, the new rural carrier, is giving good service and it is to be hoped he will be retained.

Harry Jenkin's application for the postmastership of Woodside has been sent to Washington and he will most likely receive the appointment as he has the endorsement of Congressman Hayes.

Mayor Walter Knight intends to make some extensive improvements on his property here shortly.

Mine host Frank Dougherty is doing a rushing business these days. His hostelry is filled and he is turning away applicants for apartments for the summer.

Delegates of Peninsula Development League Hold Session in Redwood City.

BETTER ROADS IS THE DEMAND Members Believe Automobiles to be Means of Development—Banquet by Board of Trade.

Good roads was the chief burden of discussion at the quarterly meeting of the Peninsula Development League held in this city Wednesday evening. Not only was the improvement of the present thoroughfares demanded, but it was insisted that more modern roads must be constructed within the very near future if the Peninsula should hope to keep pace with the development of less favored sections.

When the meeting was called to order at the Odd Fellows Hall, the following officers were in attendance:

President, W. J. Martin, South San Francisco; vice president, H. N. Royden, of San Mateo; secretary, W. E. Crossman, Sunnyvale; assistant secretary, E. I. Woodman, South San Francisco; Treasurer, P. P. Chamberlain of this city.

The delegates attending the meeting were as follows:

San Mateo—Douglas Watson, L. E. Burke, W. L. Matlock, A. M. Robt. Burke, George W. Owen, W. T. Ganett, Paul Shoup, Hall C. Ross, H. N. Royden.

South San Francisco—W. J. Martin, A. McSwain, E. E. Cunningham, E. I. Woodman, Dr. H. G. Plymire, C. F. Hamacher, George H. Chapman.

Sunnyvale—W. E. Crossman, Mayfield—J. J. Moyer, S. A. Crory.

Mountain View—B. E. Burns, Redwood City—P. P. Chamberlain, A. D. Walsh, L. H. Newbert.

Another communication was presented from the Southern Pacific Railway Company requesting that the several municipalities along the line in the Peninsula should take steps to prevent the operation of ticket scalpers in their limits, as a preliminary to any extensive revision of commutation rates. With the letter was a draft of suggested ordinance on this subject which it was desired should be adopted. On the motion of Mr. Chamberlain, it was ordered that the secretary forward copies of the ordinance to the Trustees of the various towns, with the request of the League that immediate action be taken.

President Martin then opened the discussion of the chief topic of the session first laying stress on the scope and object of the League, which was the organized means of voicing the public sentiment of the people of the county; in the matter of public improvements and development. Composed of representatives from the civic bodies of the various sections of the county, it was the purpose to aid every municipality and to assist in the correction of methods of procedure in matters of public improvement and advancement. After calling attention to the improvements made in the operation of the Southern Pacific during the past few years and the growth of the county as a consequence, Mr. Martin took up the subject of the need of good public highways and the failure of the county to keep pace with the progress of other sections. Special attention was called to the condition of the Automobile Boulevard, which had been constructed by private subscription, but was now in a most wretched condition for want of care and repairs. Although the Supervisors had been urged to accept the highway and care for it at public expense, they had refused to do so in its present condition, urging the plea of lack of funds to put the road in good repair. He urged that it was of importance that this boulevard should be put in proper condition for travel with the least possible delay, as it was the only road available to large automobile travel from San Francisco, and that these excursionists were a class who would benefit the county both in the money spent in the trips and in the publicity given to the attractions of the section. Mr. Martin suggested that some means be taken to again put the road in repair at private expense, and that then the Supervisors be shown that public sentiment favored its acceptance and care by the county. He also suggested that the Trustees of South San Francisco be urged to take some immediate action for the improvement of that portion of the highway within the limits of that city. Attention was called also to the necessity of extending this road into the county and for the construction and extension of other similar enterprises.

Mr. Royden presented and read a petition which had been in circulation urging upon the county supervisors that they should take steps for the construction in San Mateo County of the Bay Shore Road. This petition had already been signed by a large number of prominent taxpayers and its circulation would be continued.

George W. Owen, secretary of the Bay Shore Development Co., of San Francisco, who has been active in the promotion of good roads sentiment among the people of the Bay City, spoke at some length on the same subject. San Francisco had awakened to the importance of the construction of the Bay Shore Highway, and it is expected that at least $700,000 would eventually be expended in the work. He urged that the people of this county should encourage this by showing interest in the improvement and making provision for its continuance. He urged that the building of good roads was one of the most profitable investments the owners of property could make.

Hall C. Ross of San Mateo, urged that some steps be taken to not only induce the Supervisors to accept the Automobile Boulevard, but to continue its construction to the line of the second district. In fact, he desired that it should be continued through the entire county. Some means should easily be found to secure the necessary funds.

W. L. Matlock, called the attention to the financial loss already being sustained by the county on account of the lack of proper roads for the use of automobile tourists. Last Sunday something like 400 automobiles from San Francisco crossed the bay to Oakland, attracted by the good roads of that section. He estimated that during the day each of these parties would spend $10, much of which would come this way in preference if proper roads for comfortable traveling were provided. In addition to the money thus spent, these tourists would do much to advertise the attractions and opportunities of the county. The members of the State Automobile Club were also interested in the matter and were endeavoring to secure private funds to assist in the work.

Several other delegates spoke along the same lines, and following the remarks a set of resolutions urging the action by the Supervisors were adopted. The resolutions set forth the fact that the Automobile Boulevard was constructed at private expense, and for the public benefit, and that in consequence of the lack of jurisdiction due to the failure of the Board to accept the highway it had been neglected and was in serious need of repair. It is urged by the League that the Supervisors accept the highway without further delay, and provide for its immediate repair and ultimate continuance at least to the northern line of the second district. A committee consisting of Hall C. Ross, L. E. Burke, L. N. Newbert, W. L. Matlock, W. B. Lawrence and Douglas Watson, was appointed to wait upon the Supervisors at their meeting Monday and present the resolutions and urge immediate action. A resolution was also adopted requesting the Trustees of South San Francisco to repair and improve that portion of the road under their jurisdiction.

On the motion of W. E. Crossman, the secretary was directed to correspond with the officials of the Southern Pacific and request that a revision of the existing commutation tariff list be made, with a view to a reduction of the rates.

San Mateo was selected as the place for the holding of the next meeting of the League. As the general sentiment of the delegates was that the matter of road construction was of too much importance to allow of delay until the next quarterly meeting, the President was requested to call a special meeting of the League when in his judgment this might be advisable for the further promotion of the work.

The meeting closed at 8 o'clock, when the delegates became the guests of the Board of Trade, of this city at their annual banquet.

In the Banquet Hall.

Shortly after 8 o'clock, the visiting delegates were ushered into the large dining room of the Odd Fellows Hall, followed by the members of the Board of Trade as their hosts. Under the direction of F. W. Glenan the hall had been handsomely prepared for the occasion, and presented a most enticing appearance. Plates had been laid for 125 guests, the tables having been arranged longitudinally of the hall, and about these the members of the local organization and their guests were seated. About an hour was devoted to the discussion of a bounteous and well prepared menu, after which the time until nearly midnight was devoted to speechmaking. A. D. Walsh presided as toastmaster, and in a happy vein introduced the speakers of the evening. While wit and humor flowed freely, to a great extent the speakers confined discussion to the same general themes followed at the meeting of the League.

W. J. Martin, president of the Promotion League, was the chief speaker of the evening. Before proceeding to the subject in hand, he took occasion to congratulate the members of the Redwood City Board of Trade on the good work they had accomplished. Mr. Martin said that during the greater portion of the 20 years that he had resided in San Mateo County he had been active in promotion work, and predicted a great future for the section bordering along the bay shore. The completion of the Dumbarton Bridge meant much not only to this city but to the entire section, as this would then be one of the great transcontinental railway centers. He still insisted however that railways were not the only builders of the country. To progress and attract well-to-do people as residents we must have good roads.

George A. Merrill, president of the Board of Trustees, spoke on the future and work of Redwood City. He

Our contemporary says that the most beautiful woman in all California is in San Francisco. We beg to differ. The best looking woman in all California lives right here in Redwood City.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Hanson, of Palo Alto, visited friends here Tuesday. They are charmed with Redwood City and may move here.

John Fehr left for La Honda Tuesday to pitch his tent for the summer among the tall redwoods. He will dwell upon the extensive street and other improvements now being considered for the city, and promised cooperation in the upbuilding of the section.

George D. Owen, of the Bay Shore Promotion League, was next introduced and amused and entertained his hearers for some time. He favored a boulevard 100 feet wide and 83 miles long, extending through San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara and Santa Cruz counties—from San Francisco Bay to Santa Cruz Bay. This he believed was a community interest of the four counties.

In the future the automobile would be the builder of the residence country, and they must be provided with good roads, which would be found an investment rather than an expense.

Paul Schoup prophesied that within a comparatively few years the chief residence district of San Francisco would be south of San Bruno hill, and that in time there would be one continuous city down the peninsula, humorously suggesting Redwood City as the center. He urged immediate action in the building of roads, and advised that it would be unwise to delay in expectation of the voting of the much talked of State Highway appropriation.

Hall C. Ross advised that we drop the hammer and hunt for a home—don't knocking and go to boosting. Don't advertise the little rumors of public and private scandal, but let the people know of the attraction you have to offer.

The other speakers, all of whom voiced similar sentiments, were Capt. W. G. Garrett, Douglas Watson, W. E. Crossman, C. R. Hampshire and Judge E. E. Cunningham. Before separating for their homes, the visitors extended their hearty thanks to the Board of Trade for the splendid entertainment afforded.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. McCracken went to Santa Cruz Monday to attend the funeral of S. B. Swanton, who died there on Sunday. Deceased was an uncle of Mrs. McCracken and had resided in Santa Cruz for many years. F. W. Swanton the well-known promoter of that city was his nephew. The deceased at one time resided at Pescadero where he is still kindly remembered. He was buried under the auspices of the Grand Army, of the Republic he having been a member for many years.

Last Saturday there was an exhibition in the windows of T. P. Maloney a turkey weighing 33 pounds, the largest ever brought to town. The bird was raised on the Bonestell farm near Fair Oaks. It speaks well for the locality that can raise such a monster turkey, but the pen is capable of raising large things.

A. P. Baillarge, father of Mrs. T. P. Maloney of this city died at his home in Gilroy last Tuesday at the age of 73 years. He was a retired butcher and lived in ease during the last years of his eventful life. He had been a resident of Gilroy for 42 years during which time he accumulated a snug fortune. He was highly esteemed by all.

Stanley Rice departed last Thursday evening for Olympia Washington, to spend a few months with his cousin, Dr. Ingham, a prominent physician and surgeon of that place. His wife and mother will join him there next month and the party will proceed to Seattle to see the Alaska Yukon exposition. While north Mr. Rice will stop for some time with her sister, Mrs. T. J. There was a large crowd at Dan Mullens social last Saturday evening and it is expected there will be a much larger attendance this evening. A good program is arranged. Good Wednesday over the remains.

Among the Ball Players.

All the fun of trouncing the visiting M. J. B. baseball club by the local team which he spoke of last week was side tracked before the game was started last Sunday. Merale failed to show and Benham had to be substituted to do the twirling stunt.

Add to this statement of fact, the unfortunate errors of Becker and Reed the second baseman, and you have a synopsis of the going.

When the last man went out in the ninth, Redwood was beaten 11 to 10, but to find a person who had not received his money's worth in excitement and fun was impossible, from start to climax it was a rapid procession of stirring and interesting events.

Joe Botto went back to third and held the position down in a creditable manner. Fox at short in his haste to make a few plays fumbled but more than recovered by batting well.

Ed Heaney caught a good game and kept the opponents puzzled by his work on the receiving end while at the bat he was there every time.

Henry Beezer took the honors by his work with the stick and fielded well.

The boys are due to get a winning streak and as the Lash Bitters club will be here tomorrow perhaps they will get the blow now long due. Fox will do the tossing for Redwood and everybody will be out to help Robert win.

The team will be strengthened by the addition of the best material our sister burg can boast of in the person of James Maloney and another, and Menlo in a body will be here to see that Jim gets his encouragement which no doubt will be due him as he is the goods.

Last Sunday's attendance was a splendid testimonial of the interest now being manifested by the fans and all the boys want to do now is to win a game then our visiting team will be well taken care of when they reach Redwood.

Julius Allain had one of the bones of his forearm broken in last Sunday's game while batting. He will be laid up for a short time.

Express Company Names New Local Agent—Some Handsome Residences to be Erected.

MENLO PARK, MAY 11.—The Hillside Improvement Club, embracing the district bounded by the Woodside road, the Alameda, El Camino Real, and San Francisco creek, held a well-attended meeting last Saturday evening at the residence of its president, W. L. Growell. Fifty members and invited guests listened to an interesting and instructive address from Professor Dudley of Stanford University upon Roadside Tree Planting—the theme of the evening. The club decided to plant trees, the coming fall, within their district to beautify the roadside. It has just completed the placing of name signs on the roads and lanes, thus making more accessible the paradise that is, and that is to be, in the area guarded by the club. Supervisor McEvoy accepted an invitation to meet with the club at this time and discuss its plans, and render his aid as was possible for the county in developing this section within his immediate jurisdiction, but at the last moment was detained. The club is doing good work, and at its own expense, work along similar lines, in other parts of the county, is heartily commended.

It is understood that when the railroads close all the vacant buildings will be leased to Japanese storekeepers of Palo Alto and San Francisco. The question arises would it not be better to have the railroads than an ill-smelling, death-dealing, demoralizing and unsightly Oriental village? This will remain to be seen.

Henry McEvoy returned from Paso Robles Tuesday with three six-horse teams. He was engaged there all winter plowing a ranch of 2000 acres. He says that the crops there are a failure owing to the death of late rains.

As the time approaches for closing the polls for the election of a queen for the rose fete to be held in Parochial hall on May 28th interest in the event is becoming more manifest and the excitement more intense. The polls will close at 10 o'clock tonight sharp. Some heavy voting is expected at the last moment. A squad of cadets in uniform will be at the polls to keep order and to avoid a rush at the critical moment. It cannot be conjectured at present who the queen will be as a dark horse most likely will come into the contest at the last moment with a big bunch of votes. Up to Wednesday the vote was as follows: Dot Bruce 215, Fannie Casey 303, Bertha Blanchard 161, Ada Ferguson 90, Betha Kuck 58, Annie Moriarty 39, Nellie McCarthy 15, K. O'Leary 16, Angeline Broggi 14, Madan 15, Kitty Lenahan 15, Cecelia McGovern 12.

The High School Play.

Sydney Williams, co. On the 26th of May, the senior class of Sequoia will present Clyde Fitch's "Stubbornness of Geraldine." For ten weeks the members of the graduating class have been working faithfully to make this enterprise a success. It is the second attempt of the kind in the history of the school, and promises to be equal to our first effort.

The play itself is unusual in both the personal and the scenes. The first scene is on board a steamer sailing from London to New York and is a typical deck scene. While on board an English lord and a Hungarian count become acquainted with the heroine, Geraldine Langland, and the love scenes are interesting and amusing.

The principal parts are taken by Theresa Sullivan, who acts the role of Geraldine, the obstinate heroine and Morris Goldsmith, who successfully took the part of "Uncle Joe" in "The Pride of Virginia," as Count Kinsey, the suitor of Geraldine. His difficulty in the mastering the English language is quite amusing. Accompanying Miss Geraldine on her trip home, is a German lady, Fraulein Handt. This part is being successfully taken by Evelyn Curran, Miss Vi Thompson, the blunt and outspoken, yet jolly and true girl from Butte City, Montana, is the most amusing character on account of her most shocking language before the elite of New York City. Minnie Becker is taking off Vi to perfection.

John McCrear, as Lord Tilbury, has come over to America in order to forget about a heart affair in London. Mr. and Mrs. Wrighton, the loving couple who look after the interests of Geraldine, are being portrayed by Otto Offermann and Petri Johnston.

The purpose of the play is to raise sufficient funds to edit the best High School paper that has ever been seen or published by any school on the peninsula south of San Francisco, as well as to procure pictures and busts of some of our greatest men for the adornment of our high school building. The Ah-hambra has been secured and the time between acts will be occupied with music, both instrumental and vocal. Tickets will be on sale at Ryan's Drug store, prices 25, 35 and 50 cents.

She proved her allegations and was given the decree. She was awarded the custody of the four minor children. The father is allowed to see his children at stated times. She is given the homestead containing all of block 46 in the Abby Homestead together with the dwelling house and other improvements, certain personal property $200 in cash and $25 a month for the support of the children. The decedent explains that the estate is made up of community property and by operation of law his wife, Mary L. Rice, is entitled to one half of same. The undivided one half of his half he bequeaths to his wife in trust. She is to invest and reinvest same from time to time in such manner as she deems proper and to use the income thereof for the support of his daughter, Mary L. Rice, during her life and surround her with all the comforts of life. She may give her a part of all the principal as she may deem advisable. Should she die before the mother then the principal and interest is to be vested in the latter. The other undivided half is also given to Mrs. Rice in trust for her son, George Stanley Rice. She is to invest it for him and give him the income or any part of the principal she may deem proper. When he arrives at the age of 27 years he is to receive the whole of the portion left to his mother for him. The petition accompanying the will sets forth the estate to be worth over $100,000.

It consists of personal and real property as follows: Cash in the various banks exceeds $5000, the residence in Redwood City is valued at $7000, forty acres land at Woodside $8000, block 15, Castro's Addition to Redwood City $1200, one fourth interest in Hadley block, Redwood City, $3500, notes, secured by mortgage, bonds and stock $44,500.

A SUNNY DAY ON YUKON AVENUE, A-Y-P. EXPOSITION, SEATTLE.

Yukon Avenue is one of the many ways leading to the Court of Honor of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition. It leads from the Cascades down to one of the many entrances to the Pay Streak and directly to the "café center" of the Fair Grounds.

All of these structures were completed before December 1, 1908. They are of the conventional exposition type of construction—plaster staff over heavy wooden framework.
